

Arc Illusion

Cut out the two arcs. Place one above the other, and notice which looks longer. Then reverse their position, and again notice which seems longer. Your eye is comparing the inner points of the top arc with the outer ends of the lower arc, so the bottom arc will always seem longer.

